The Dayton Human Relations Council (HRC) presents a series of signature outreach engagement activities throughout the year, beginning with the 2023 Small Business Opportunity Forum at the Northwest Branch Library (2410 Philadelphia Dr.), on Thursday, Feb. 16 (9 a.m. to 1 p.m.). On-site registration starts at 8:30 a.m. Admission is free, and refreshments will be provided.

The Small Business Opportunity Forum gives local businesses a chance to meet decision makers, to learn about and apply for certification at the city, state, and federal levels, and to network with prime contractors, City of Dayton departments, and community partners who may be seeking subcontractors.

The event will engage small business owners with the City of Dayton's four major departments: Public Works, Planning/Neighborhoods/Development, Water, and Aviation. City staff members will introduce upcoming opportunities in construction and goods/services.

HRC partner Mastercard will offer free Square devices and provide tutorials.

Registration is also available through Eventbrite at <https://bit.ly/sbOpportunityForum>.
