The Dayton Bike Yard at Welcome Park...Where Cycling Meets Adventure...will open with a community celebration on Saturday, May 20, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The 10-acre, free-admission cycling center at Dayton's Welcome Park (1437 S. Edwin C. Moses Blvd.) offers advanced, intermediate and beginners' trails, as well as a bicycle playground for children and a perimeter trail for walking and easy riding.

The Dayton Bike Yard's featured attractions include pump tracks, a rock skill trail, slope trails, jump lines and more.

City leaders expect the Dayton Bike Yard to become a major regional amenity, attracting visitors from throughout Ohio, the Great Lakes region and beyond. The City of Dayton committed to building the bike yard in 2020 and successfully sought support from federal and state sources, as well as private sector and non-profit partners.

"We are thrilled to offer this fantastic opportunity for fun and fitness to Dayton-area residents and visitors," said Mayor Jeffrey Mims. "We look forward to the Dayton Bike Yard joining our region's first-class outdoor recreation amenities."

The Dayton Bike Yard is located in the Carillon neighborhood. Carillon residents and other community partners were active participants in planning the attraction at Welcome Park.

Free parking is available along Welcome Park's eastern border, in Lot D of the Welcome Stadium parking area. Enter from Edwin C. Moses Boulevard.

The May 20 grand opening event features a parade of bikes, demos by nationally known cyclists and a ribbon-cutting led by Mayor Mims. Get more information and a schedule of events here.

DaytonBikeYard.com is scheduled to launch shortly in advance of the May 20 park opening.
