The City of Dayton's National Night Out celebration tour is set for Tuesday, Aug. 1, as City leaders, along with police and fire personnel, will visit four National Night Out events.

National Night Out has been helping build a sense of community for four decades. The special night happens the first Tuesday of August and is celebrated across America and Canada, as well as military installations worldwide.

National Night Out neighborhood celebrations have grown over the years from just 'leaving a porch light on' to much bigger events like block parties allowing citizens, law enforcement, and local government leaders to interact in a positive environment, build community, and send a message that they are prepared to prevent crime in their neighborhoods.

The Dayton Police Department will lead a neighborhood caravan tour which will make stops at these National Night Out community events:

- 5:45 p.m. – Old North Dayton – Stuart Patterson Park, 238 Baltimore St.
- 6:25 p.m. – Huffman Historic – East Third Street at June Street
- 7:05 p.m. – Westwood – Westwood Elementary, 2805 Oakridge Dr.
- 7:45 p.m. – Oak & Ivy Park – 798 Anderson-Goodrich Ct.
