Calls For Service

Citizen calls for service (CFS) are the most important use of the Department's time and include all calls that are not initiated by an officer. They are broken up into 9 priorities with priority 1 being the most severe, with imminent threat to life. Proactive calls for service are initiated by an officer and are one of the best tools the department has for reducing crime. A response time includes both the time it takes for a dispatcher to find an available officer, as well as the travel time to arrive on scene.

Investigations Division

The Investigations Division is comprised of three distinct bureaus responsible for all follow-up investigations of violent crimes, crimes against persons, property crimes, financial crimes, drug/prostitution investigations, and forensic services. The below highlights several accomplishments throughout the year.

The Violent Crimes Bureau worked in partnership with the ATF, and DPD was provided with a NIBIN machine to help identify shell casings from firearms. Each shell casing from a crime scene is analyzed like a fingerprint by this machine, which links each casing back to the crime guns, which provides investigatory leads. This machine is being used on all criminal incidents by the department and will be utilized by outside agencies free of charge.

The Cold Case Unit was awarded a grant that is aimed at increasing the prosecution of cold cases where a suspect's DNA profile is known. The grant will be operational from January 1, 2023, to December 31, 2026. In 2022, the unit arrested a serial rapist, Tiandre Turner. He violently abused and sexually assaulted three women in Dayton between 2013 and 2014.

The Special Investigations Bureau worked with the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Ohio and the FBI resident office for nearly three years to bring a fentanyl dealer, Kelsey Williams Jr., to justice for several fatal and non-fatal overdoses in our area. Williams Jr. pleaded guilty in federal court in January 2022.

Traffic Services Unit

The Traffic Services Unit is assigned under the Operations Support Division and is responsible for the investigation of all fatal, serious injury, and hit-and-run crashes. The unit also coordinates OVI checkpoints and traffic enforcement details.

The majority of traffic crash reports and traffic citations issued are completed by officers assigned to the Patrol Operations Division.

Strategic Response Unit

- The mission of the Strategic Response Unit (SRU) is to address community concerns, problems, and quality of life issues throughout the city using problem-oriented policing strategies, as well as other department initiatives, which are designed to have a direct impact on neighborhood crime.

Fighting Violent Crime

In 2021, the department developed Gun Reduction Initiatives (GRI) to focus on the people who are committing the bulk of violent crimes. In 2022, the department underwent a reorganization and in June created the Strategic Response Unit (SRU) assigned under the Operations Support Divisions, which took over many of the same responsibilities. In just six months SRU built on the work of GRI and was able to outpace the GRI numbers from 2021.

Neighborhood Assistance Officers

For the past 53 years, our department has been lucky to have our Neighborhood Assistance Officers (NAOs) as a force multiplier. This dedicated group of volunteers work to assist our sworn personnel at police and fire scenes and at events, handling duties such as traffic posts, community engagement, and patrolling our streets as an extra set of eyes.

Youth Outdoor Adventures

The Dayton Police Department started a pilot program called Outdoor Youth Adventures. The aim of the program is to help youth who have experienced trauma.

It is an 8-week program developed by Major Brian Johns, commander of the Investigations Division.

The program provides 20 young people an educational outlet that includes the outdoors and nature to help cope with the post-traumatic stress and anxiety in their everyday lives.

Those in the program are also able to form relationships with Dayton police personnel and with other young people going through similar experiences.

Police and Clergy Together (PACT)

- The Police and Clergy Together (PACT) initiative partners Dayton's faith-based community with our Dayton Police Officers.
- After graduation from the Academy, PACT members focus on three things:
 - Praying for our Dayton Police Officers along with our community
 - Building and improving relationships with our Dayton Police Officers
 - Serving citizens and officers in need through pastoral call-outs

112th Recruit Class: Becoming a Dayton Police Officer

In 2022, the 112th Recruit Class began their 32-week journey toward becoming a Dayton Police Officer. Our recruits are taught in our own paid Police Academy, which not only teaches all required OPOTA curriculum, but extends that training by 540 hours to include increased training in community diversity, mental health awareness, bias-free policing, firearms, subject control, communications skills, and report writing. It also includes certification with pepper spray and Taser, which are not state requirements.

After graduation from the Police Academy, recruits continue their training while on patrol with a Field Training Officer. This 16-week training ensures that new officers are utilizing what they learned in the classroom to the real-life situations in the community. New officers are also tasked with coming up with a potential solution to a community issue or to assist patrol officers in serving the community better.

Support Services Division

The Support Services Division is responsible for overseeing all technology, fleet, facilities, police records, property room, fiscal operations, and payroll.

In 2022, all Dayton Police cruisers were outfitted with Automated License Plate Readers (ALPRs). These ALPRs were approved by City Commission in July and were rolled out in August. The division also handled the budget submission and tracking of a $60,758,200 budget.

After the Miami Valley Regional Crime Lab ceased conducting DNA analysis, the Support Services Division and Investigations Division worked to transition the forensic testing of DNA to the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification, and all additional forensic analysis to the Hamilton County Crime Lab.

Supervisor of the Year

Sergeant Theodore Trupp

Sergeant Theodore Trupp leads the East Patrol Operations Division Community Problem Response Team and the Department's Canine Unit. As Canine Unit supervisor Sgt. Trupp has completed demanding training requirements that allow him to train and certify new canines and handlers within our department. In 2021, Sgt. Trupp trained three new canines for our department.

Officer of the Year

Officer Ronald Strehle

Officer Ronald Strehle is at the forefront of building relationships with the community, local businesses, organizations, and houses of worship through a wide-range of classes he teaches. He has been instrumental in growing the Citizen's Academy program to educated even more people on what law enforcement does and why Officer Strehle's creativity is also responsible for numerous programs that are now used around the state.

Professional Staff Member of the Year

Ms. Rebecca Gaytko

Ms. Rebecca Gaytko has been with the city of Dayton for more than 25 years and is a wealth of institutional knowledge. Becky's passion for making law enforcement a team effort with the community extends beyond Dayton to the state level. Becky is also the department's intern coordinator, a program she has cultivated over the years to yield students who go on to become Dayton Police Officers.

Steve Whalen Memorial Policing Award

Officer Nathan Speelman

Officer Nathan Speelman is a community oriented officer who takes pride in his profession. He is a dedicated officer who builds lasting relationships with the citizens he works with on a daily basis. He is actively involved in community and youth groups and takes time out of his schedule on and off duty to maintain these bonds with the community.
