

Steven Gondol named Planning, Neighborhoods and Development Director

Release date: Thursday, May 2, 2024

City Manager Shelley Dickstein announces the appointment of Steven Gondol as Director of the City of Dayton Department of Planning, Neighborhoods & Development.

In this role, Gondol will oversee seven divisions and more than 100 employees focused on ensuring stable and growing neighborhoods, fostering development opportunities throughout the city, and empowering residents to be stewards of their communities.

Gondol has served as deputy director of the department since 2020 and has more than 20 years of experience in community planning spanning federal campus and facility design, neighborhood marketing and development, municipal planning, and housing code enforcement.

Prior to joining the City of Dayton, Gondol worked in Baltimore, Maryland, Washington, D.C., Mason, Ohio, and Detroit, Michigan. He earned a degree in Urban Planning from the University of Cincinnati. He resides in the University Row neighborhood with his wife and two children.

"I am confident in Steve's ability to lead the City of Dayton's efforts in neighborhood and community planning and development, including housing matters," said Dickstein.

"Dayton is experiencing growth in investment, development and community engagement, and we look forward to seeing Steve's ongoing success in those areas.
