The City of Dayton neighborhood mini-grant application process for 2019 is underway.

Neighborhood mini-grants of up to $5,000 may be awarded for projects and programs benefiting neighborhoods, such as physical improvements, marketing materials, community events, and other initiatives benefiting the community and increasing organizational capacity.

Neighborhood associations, block clubs, priority boards and other community groups already established and having a public purpose are welcome to apply. Recipient organizations are required to use grant funds to leverage a fifty percent match from other sources and in-kind contributions.

Two training sessions for groups interested in applying will be held at the Northwest Recreation Center, 1600 Princeton Dr., on Monday, March 11, 5:30 p.m., and Saturday, March 16, 10:00 a.m. After attending a training session, an application will be sent to attendees on April 1.
