

"Flavors of Dayton" to raise funds for immigrant and refugee services

Release Date: Wednesday, Oct. 2, 2019

Contact: Monica Harris, Welcome Dayton Coordinator, 937-333-1422

Immigrant chefs will present flavorful creations of their native nations at a series of cooking demonstrations to raise funds for vital immigrant and refugee services in the Dayton region.

Welcome Dayton presents Flavors of Dayton, three food events highlighting the cuisines, talents and stories of foreign-born chefs. Each chef will prepare several selections for guests to enjoy.

Flavors of Dayton occurs at the Dayton Metro Library Opportunity Space, 215 E.

Third St. (St. Clair at Third). The featured chefs and cuisines are:

Tuesday, Oct. 15, 5-7:30 p.m., Chef Rafael Santillan (Nelly's), Bolivian.

Tuesday, Oct. 22, 5-7:30 p.m., Chef Theresa Barnes (Eden Spice), Caribbean and African.

Tuesday, Oct. 29, 5-7:30 p.m., Chef George Daoud (CedarLand Bakery & Restaurant), Lebanese.

Tickets are available at $65 per person (plus fee) for each event. Go to www.flavorsofdayton.eventbrite.com for information and tickets.

A flyer for "Flavors of Dayton" featuring a photo of salmon and broccoli at the top. The text reads: "Flavors of Dayton Fundraisers to support vital services for Dayton's immigrants and refugees featuring —". Below this are three chef profiles, each with a circular icon of a fork and spoon. 1. Chef Rafael Santillan, Nelly's: A Taste of Bolivia, October 15, 2019, 5:00 - 7:30 p.m. 2. Chef Theresa Barnes, Eden Spice Restaurant, October 22, 2019, 5:00 - 7:30 p.m. 3. Chef George Daoud, CedarLand Bakery & Restaurant, October 29, 2019, 5:00 - 7:30 p.m. At the bottom, it says "All events held at the Dayton Metro Library Opportunity Space @ St. Clair, 215 E. Third St., Dayton, Ohio".

#

