

City curfew will not be enforced tonight

Release date: Monday, June 1, 2020

---

We want to thank the residents of Dayton who have been so passionate, and primarily peaceful in their protests. As a community, we are fortunate to be able to share a space for productive dialogue. We do not plan to enforce the curfew tonight, June 1.

However, we will be monitoring the events planned for this evening and are prepared to change course if necessary.
