

City prepares for possible winter storm

Release date: Tuesday, Feb. 1, 2022

The City of Dayton is monitoring forecasts which call for cold temperatures, rain, and possible snow and ice starting Wednesday morning. Decisions regarding service delivery due to weather will be distributed to media outlets to help spread the word as the situation evolves. Additional updates will be provided on daytonohio.gov and on the City's social media channels.

In preparation for any potential impacts, we encourage residents, visitors, and drivers to plan and avoid unnecessary risks. The City also encourages residents to put a plan in place for potential power outages and other storm-related dangers.

For additional information on the City of Dayton's winter weather response (including snow removal) and a list of winter safety/preparedness tips, go to daytonohio.gov/winter.
