The City of Dayton's annual Neighborhood Conference will convene Saturday, Oct. 1, from 7:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Belmont High School, hosted by the Department of Planning, Neighborhoods and Development.

The conference, titled "Above and Beyond: Elevating Our Neighborhoods," will bring together community and business leaders, government officials, and volunteers to exchange ideas and information to help transform communities.

The conference is open and free to anyone committed to elevating our neighborhoods and benefitting their own community through awareness gained at the event. Families are encouraged to attend and join in the conversation.

The program's featured speakers will include Pastor Joshua Ward.

For more information and registration, go to daytonohio.gov/neighborhoodconference.
