Dayton International Airport is inviting media professionals to attend the Holiday Travel Safety Forum at 10 a.m. on November 5. The airport police force has teamed with TSA to offer this open forum to help ease travel anxieties and offer helpful information just in time for the busy holiday travel season.

The forum is open to the public and will answer questions, offer demonstrations and give updates on the latest best practices for keeping the airport safe and travelers moving through security easily and efficiently.

The event will kick off with displays of prohibited items and explosives, followed by a TSA presentation regarding checkpoint operations and a law enforcement presentation on travel safety. The airport's K-9 unit will also give a demonstration.

"We understand there are always a lot of questions about security and safety when preparing to travel through the airport," said Airport Police Sgt. Chris Mohn. "We are pleased to be able to offer this service in an open forum and to answer questions."
