The newest Dayton Police Department K9 officer will receive potentially life-saving protection thanks to some generous citizens.

A small group of Dayton residents raised money and worked through the Protect the Protector program to purchase a ballistic vest for K9 Jake, who is handled by Officer Chris Savage.

The citizens and Officer Savage will present Jake with his new vest on Wednesday, January 25, at 1 .p.m., at East Patrol Operations Division North (417 E. Helena St.).

The media is invited to attend this event.
