Regina,

I can't speak to the merits specifically of FUSUS, but I would like to comment that I think the City of Dayton needs to improve it's ability to monitor crime in real time, in order to get it further under control.

The Christmas tree lighting shooting would be one recent example and another one is the recent intersection takeover at Patterson and Third Street. As public and private investments are made downtown, we need to do all we can within the limits of privacy to ensure these investments continue and are protected.

Regards,

Jason Gerard
